

In This Issue

- Quarterly Webinar
- Getting Involved in SCI Projects

Contact Us

www.nasciconsortium.org
info@nasciconsortium.com

Quarterly Webinar

Join us for the new NASCIC quarterly webinars. These are open to all individuals and stakeholders in the SCI community, regardless of membership status in NASCIC. These webinars will give an overview of the Consortium along with updates on current activities, future projects and goals, and information about ways to be involved. Each webinar is also an opportunity for participants to voice their comments and concerns during a Q&A.

We are creating these quarterly webinars as an opportunity to communicate more frequently with the SCI community in a manner that doesn't require people to travel or spend any money. The webinars are free and accessible online or on the telephone.

To register for our first webinar on March 18, 2020 at 3pm EST please click here

Get Involved in SCI Projects

The tides are beginning to change in SCI research and funders are starting to realize the importance of engaging people living with SCI and care partners in their funded projects. Since this shift, NASCIC has become the go to organization for researchers in North America seeking the voice of people with lived experience. Currently NASCIC has 10 active projects with advisory teams of each of them....but we can do more!

Share your lived experience with SCI and contribute to SCI research by signing up to become project consumer advisor today!

Sign Up Here

Learn more about uniting for change in the spinal cord injury community

HERE
